

International Conference

The Russia Factor and Security in Central and Eastern Europe

9 March (Thursday) 2017, 1 PM

Place: Ateities st. 20, LT-08303 Vilnius, Lithuania

Bartosz Jóźwik, Ph.D., The John Paul II Catholic University of Lublin, Poland
Real economic convergence of the Central and Eastern European EU Member States

Andrzej Szabaciuk, Ph.D., The John Paul II Catholic University of Lublin, Poland
Russian propaganda in Western Europe: a Threat to European Security?

Gintaras Aleknonis, Prof., Director of Institute of Communication, Mykolas Romeris University
Propaganda, Counterpropaganda and Media Experience

Ramūnas Trimakas, Assoc. Prof., Institute of Political Sciences, Mykolas Romeris University
A Palimpsest of Russian Imperialism: Rewriting History of Central and Eastern Europe

Jakub Olchowski, Ph.D., Maria Curie-Skłodowska University, Poland
Central and Eastern Europe – a Russian playground.

Tomasz Stępniewski, Ph.D. Habil., The John Paul II Catholic University of Lublin, Poland
The Geopolitical Roots and Security Issues of the Ukrainian Crisis

Aleksandra Kuczyńska-Zonik, Ph.D., Institute of East-Central Europe, Lublin, Poland
Russia and Russian-speakers in the Baltic states

Linas Kojala, Director of Institute of Eastern European Studies Centre, Mykolas Romeris University
Vulnerability of Baltic States to Russian pressure